

What is Santyl®?

- Santyl is a type of medication that cleans wounds and prepares the way for healthy tissue.

How do I apply it?

- Santyl generally is applied about as thick as a nickel or “nickel- thick”, unless prescribed differently by your provider.

My provider has ordered Santyl. What’s next?

1. Your prescription is sent electronically to your pharmacy usually the same day as your appointment.
2. There may be valuable coupons available to assist you with the cost of this medication.
 - Search the internet using the terms “Santyl coupon”.
 - Review the search results and determine if any of the online offers may help you.
3. If your wound is large, or if you have several wounds, you may need more than one tube of Santyl. Remind the pharmacy that your co-pay is based on the amount prescribed, not the number of tubes. Be sure you are not being charged too much for your co-pay. Some pharmacies want to charge a separate co-pay for each tube rather than for each prescription.
 - A Specialty Pharmacy (search the internet using “Specialty Pharmacy in Michigan”) may be able to fill your prescription and will apply the appropriate co-pay.
