TAKING THE TIME TO CARE

Welcome to the outpatient clinics of the University of Michigan Geriatrics Center. Our goal is to help adults over the age of 60 lead healthier and more satisfying lives. The Geriatrics Center Clinics provide quality patient care, health promotion activities, learning programs, and community resource information. All of our staff have special training and an interest in working with older adults.

Patients are seen in our clinics at the East Ann Arbor Health and Geriatrics Center by physicians who are among the most accomplished clinicians, researchers and teachers in the field of geriatrics. We are pleased that our clinical and research programs have both long been recognized among the country’s top geriatrics programs by U.S. News & World Report.

OFF-SITE SERVICES

New Hope Outreach Clinic

The New Hope Outreach Clinic offers health care services dedicated to meeting the medical needs and respecting the cultural sensitivities of African American older adults and their families. The clinic’s primary mission is to reach underserved African American, but the clinic is open to all. A health care team from the Geriatrics Center and U-M Home Care Services offers primary care, health screening, health education and referrals. The primary care is provided by a nurse practitioner with extensive experience in the care of older adults.

A social worker/Outreach coordinator is also a member of the health care team. Clinic staff will assist older adults with transportation to the clinic, provide help with Medicare/Medicaid and other financial concerns, and help with prescription drug assistance programs. Appointments are available at 8:30 am to noon on Mondays and 1:30 pm to 5:30 pm on Fridays. New Hope Outreach Clinic is located at 229 Chapin St., Ann Arbor, MI 48103.
