Gabrielle's Angel Foundation for Cancer Research Medical Research Award
Internal Deadline: July 23, 2013

Gabrielle’s Angel Foundation funds the nation’s best science in the fields of leukemia, lymphoma, and related cancers of the blood. It focuses on projects for cancer prevention, detection and treatment that are most likely to be translated into clinical trials within a 3–5 year period. The Foundation is committed to funding innovative, translational proposals and to supporting promising junior investigators, rather than well-established, senior scientists. The Medical Research Award is a three-year grant totaling $225,000 ($75,000.00/per year contingent on the submission of acceptable annual progress reports).

This opportunity is for conventional scientific research only. A separate competition will be held in the fall for projects that combine integrative (complementary) therapies or botanical agents.

UM may nominate one junior faculty member who is conducting mainstream or conventional research.

To be eligible, applicants must:
- Currently hold a junior faculty position; Assistant Professors only (i.e. Associate Professors may not apply)
- Have a Ph.D. or M.D.
- Clearly state that they have both independent research projects and independent resources
- Have preliminary results and/or publications from their independent laboratory

Deadline for submission of a proposal to the Foundation is September 13, 2013. Applicants will be notified of the Foundation’s decision by December 20, 2013.
