

Title: Mechanisms of pain in women with endometriosis

Condition Category: Obstetrics/Gynecology

Alternate Condition Category: Pain

Study Description: Women diagnosed with endometriosis, with or without chronic pelvic pain, may participate in this study. The study will involve a variety of tests, including assessing sensitivity to pressure when applied to the thumbnail, a medical history & physical exam and a blood draw. Participants will also complete several questionnaires. The study will require one visit to the Chronic Pain and Fatigue Research Center which is located at Domino's Farms.

Eligibility:

Age Range: From 18 To 52 years

Gender: Female

Ethnicity: All

Race: All

Smoking: Both Smoking and Non Smoking Volunteers

Medication: No Restriction

This study is seeking: patients with specified condition

Other Eligibility Factors

Must have an endometriosis diagnosis

Must meet additional criteria assessed by the study team

Must not be pregnant or lactating

Location of Study Visits: Ann Arbor, MI

Principal Investigator: As-Sanie,Sawsan

Compensation: $40

Expected Recruitment End Date: 04/01/2008

---

Enrollment Information

Contact for this study:

Miner,Jennifer Ann

734-998-7112

jenminer@med.umich.edu

PLEASE NOTE: Study Coordinators and Research Nurses cannot give medical advice over the phone. If you have specific questions regarding your health care, please call your primary care physician.

---

For University of Michigan Staff
--

IRB Number: HUM00003797

Formal Title: Mechanisms of pain in women with endometriosis

GCRC Study: Yes

Cancer Center Study: No

School: Medical School

Department: Obstetrics and Gynecology Dept