UMHS is collaborating with the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum!

We are recruiting very special volunteers interested in participating in the exciting new

Healing Through Hands-On Science Program

Volunteers will facilitate hands-on science activities at both Mott and Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum. The program will include such activities as the “Marble Maze,” “What’s Inside You,” “Hand Washing Surprises,” the “Four Senses Puzzle Box,” and more.

A schedule of activities will be offered during weekdays and weekends, serving C.S. Mott Children’s Hospital and Von Voigtlander Women’s Hospital patients and families and Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum visitors

At Mott Children’s Hospital: There will be two weekday events every month. The exact day and time will vary, but in general they are early morning to mid-afternoon. There will also be 4 Saturday events that will run 12:30-3:30pm.

At the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum: There will be shifts for special events at the museum on specified days and occasional weekends throughout the year. All AAHOM volunteer shifts fall between the hours of 9:30am and 4:30pm.

Scheduling shifts will be according to your availability.

Volunteers will complete General Orientation provided by UMHS Volunteer Services, as well as Child Life training. The Hands-On Museum staff will train volunteers in facilitation techniques, activity procedures, and background science content so they will be qualified to deliver activities at both institutions.

Interested? Please contact the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum for more information and to sign on for this exciting new venture on behalf of patients, families, and museum visitors! Call (734) 995-5437.
