Volunteer for an exciting collaboration between the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum and Michigan Medicine!

- While volunteering during the Healing Through Hands-On Science program, you will facilitate hands-on science activities at the Mott Family Center. The program will include activities developed by the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum.

- A schedule of activities will be offered on the second and fourth Thursday of each month. These activities serve patients and families at C.S. Mott Children’s Hospital and Von Voigtlander Women’s Hospital. Additional opportunities to volunteer for special events hosted by the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum are occasionally available.

- Scheduling shifts will be flexible according to your availability.

- Volunteers must first complete General Orientation and Child Life Training provided by Volunteer Services. At the beginning of each volunteer shift the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum staff will train volunteers in facilitation techniques, activity procedures, and background science content so they will be qualified to deliver activities.

- Interested? Please contact Michigan Medicine Volunteer Services at (734) 936-4327, and indicate that you are interested in the Healing Through Hands on Science Program, to schedule your attendance at a volunteer General Orientation. If you have already completed the required trainings at Michigan Medicine, contact the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum at (734) 995-5439 or visit www.aahom.org for information on how to sign up for volunteer shifts.
