

What is Apligraf?

Apligraf is an advanced treatment for wounds. It is created from cells found in healthy human skin, such as the foreskin of a newborn baby. It contains proteins produced by the cells and collagen which are important for healing.

Who can use Apligraf?

- People with chronic non-healing ulcers such as diabetic foot ulcers and venous wounds.

Who cannot use Apligraf?

- People who may have infected wounds.

Disclaimer: This document contains information and/or instructional materials developed by Michigan Medicine for the typical patient with your condition. It may include links to online content that was not created by Michigan Medicine and for which Michigan Medicine does not assume responsibility. It does not replace medical advice from your health care provider because your experience may differ from that of the typical patient. Talk to your health care provider if you have any questions about this document, your condition or your treatment plan.

Patient Education by Michigan Medicine is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 3.0 Unported License. Last Revised 10/2017