The Internet and other sources are full of information designed to provide investors with the tools needed to manage their portfolios. Sounds easy enough, right? Perhaps you are wondering whether you should manage your own portfolio. Maybe you already do, but don’t know if what you are doing is best. Can you benefit from working with a professional advisor? Are they worth the money? How do you decide?

We will discuss five questions that need to be addressed as you make your decision to begin or continue managing your own investments: 1) Do I have the desire? 2) Do I have the time? 3) Do I have the knowledge? 4) Do I have the temperament? 5) Do I have the information that matters and am I willing to act on it?

Join us for an in-depth discussion of these and other questions you may have. We will offer current, real-life examples of what you need to know, what you might miss, and what could happen if you are not prepared for today’s market conditions!

Aging in WHAT Place? Exploring Living Options That Enhance Your Life

Time: 11:30 AM - 12:30 PM
Location: Morris Lawrence Building, Washtenaw Community College
4800 E. Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor

As we embark on the final decades of our lives, the big question is WHERE? Should we “age in place” and bring in services when needed? Should we move closer to family? What are the advantages and limitations of retirement communities? How does money influence decisions - having enough, spending it wisely, and passing it along to our children? When is the right time to move?

This presentation is designed to help answer some of these questions, and help families think creatively about various choices. A panel of residents will share valuable insights about how events, changing circumstances and personal reasons led them to move to a senior-living community. “Aging in place” may sound good, but the real question is “what place”? A question and answer session will follow.
